10 GENERAL INFORMATION

10.1 Brief introduction to Chengdu

Chengdu, located in south-west China, is the capital of the Sichuan province and one of China’s most important economic centers and transportation and communication hubs. The 2,300-year old city has a rich culture. The fertile Chengdu Plain is called Tianfu zhi guo in Chinese, which literally means “the country of heaven”. The total area of Chengdu, the city of hibiscus, is 12,300 km² with a population of over 10 million.

Founded in 316 BC, Chengdu has retained its original name over the centuries as well as its role as capital and political, commercial and military centre of the Sichuan area (Shu). The river Jin Jiang, crossing Chengdu, got its name from the brocade industry flourishing in Chengdu since the Han Dynasty (25-220).

Within Chengdu's jurisdiction are Qionglai city, Chongzhou city and Pengzhou city, all of which are listed as “Cities of Rich Cultural and Historical Heritage” by the government of Sichuan province. In 2000, the Du Jiangyan Irrigation System and the Qingcheng Mountain (birthplace of Taoism) were inscribed on the UNESCO World Heritage List.

Chengdu is the place where the Chinese bronze culture originated, where the Southern Silk Road started, and where the earliest paper currency was printed. In addition to its rich history, culture, places of interest and its natural beauty in the environs, the region is also the natural habitat of giant pandas. Sichuan Giant Panda Sanctuaries were added to the UNESCO World Heritage List in 2006. Chengdu Panda Breeding and Research Center is the only giant panda breeding and research base in the world.

10.2 Currency

Exchange rate as of March 2007:
1 US dollar = 7,373 RMB Yuan;
1 Euro = 10,285 RMB Yuan

There is no limitation for carrying foreign currencies into China. But travellers who carry more than 5,000 US dollars in cash into China must make a declaration to customs. Duly declared, foreign currencies are allowed to be brought out of China, otherwise only 5,000 US dollars or less can be carried out of China. Tourists are only allowed to carry 6,000 RMB Yuan in and out of China. For any RMB Yuan converted into foreign currency prior to leaving China, the tourists must present the receipts of foreign exchange.

Most international currencies and travellers’ checks can be converted in major banks, hotels and international airports. The normal working hours of the banks are: 8:30 am to 5:30 pm. Most major credit cards are accepted in most of the hotels and shopping malls. Some credit cards (including Visa and MasterCard) can be used at the ATM of the Bank of China.

A cash machine accepting all major credit cards is located in the lobby of the Crowne Plaza Chengdu.

10.3 Driving

China has not joined the 1949 Convention on Highway Transportation. Therefore participants holding an international driving license who stay in China for a short period are not allowed to drive cars in China.

10.4 Electricity

The power supply in China is 220-240 volts, 50 hertz. Hotels provide 110V or 220V sockets for electric appliances. For participants who require adaptors, the hotel will be glad to provide them.

10.5 Postal Service

Post offices generally are open every day from 8:30 am to 5:00 pm. A Postal and Courier Service is available at the Crowne Plaza Chengdu.

10.6 Time

The Standard Time is 8 hours ahead of GMT.
10.7  Weather

The Chengdu climate can be hot at this time of the year. Average temperatures in late May vary from 16 to 27°C (62 to 81°F), with a possibility of rain. The participants are advised to bring light summer clothes.
