4. Date of its founding or approximate duration of its existence

Please state when the organization came into existence, as it appears in the supporting documentation establishing its legal personality (section 8 b below).

The Centre for Black Culture and International Understanding (CBCIU), Osogbo, was set up in 2009, with the administrative building officially commissioned on January 7, by Koichuro Matsuura, the then Director-General of UNESCO. But the grand opening ceremony had been preceded by years of hard planning and by several visits by UNESCO officials to both Osogbo and Sydney.
Australia; as well as by Prince Olagunsoye Oyinlola, the Chairman of the Organization and the then governor of Osun State, to Paris. The establishment of CBCIU was fully backed by the Federal Government of Nigeria.

5. Objectives of the organization

Please describe the objectives for which the organization was established, which should be 'in conformity with the spirit of the Convention' (Criterion C). If the organization’s primary objectives are other than safeguarding intangible cultural heritage, please explain how its safeguarding objectives relate to those larger objectives. Not to exceed 350 words; do not attach additional information

The 'remote' cause of the establishment of CBCIU in Osogbo goes back to the 1950s, when Ulli Beier, then living in Osogbo, became a good friend of Oba Moses Oyinlola, the then Olokuku of Okuku. Such was their friendship that even though Oba Moses Oyinlola died in 1960, Ulli Beier never forgot him, still writing copiously and glowingly about him in his numerous publications on Yoruba society and culture decades after. By 2005 Chief Ulli Beier had considered his life’s work done, and wanted to have his archival materials transferred from Sydney, Australia to Nigeria for proper safeguarding preferably in Osogbo, where he and his wife – Georgina, lived the happiest and most productive years of their lives. He got UNESCO involved so as to guarantee the safety and integrity of the materials and, eventually, the materials came back to Osogbo. Based on a feasibility report submitted by the team that Governor Oyinlola had put together, UNESCO sent two different teams between 2007 and mid-2008 to evaluate CBCIU’s proposed programme of activities, assess facilities on ground, advise, and make recommendations to UNESCO’s Executive Board for its enlistment as an affiliate to the Institute for African Culture and International Understanding, Abeokuta, a UNESCO Category II Centre. All of these culminated in a visit by the home team to UNESCO in 2008. The Africa Forum of the Executive Board formally presented the case, and it was duly granted. The Centre became operational in March, 2009. The Centre was established due to the principle and objectives of safeguarding the intangible cultural heritage resources collected over the years by Ulli Beier. The collections are displayed and used as historical references for cultural education to enhance international understanding of the Black Culture. It must be noted here that the Centre also carries out several cultural activities that are geared towards revitalizing and updating of cultural practices that are in need of urgent safeguarding. The Centre carries out researches, produces documentaries and documentations of most of the intangible cultural practices of the black people. These are done to enhance international understanding and encourage sustainability of these cultural practices.
6. The organization's activities in the field of safeguarding intangible cultural heritage

Sections 6.6 to 6.d are the primary place for establishing that the NGO satisfies the criterion of having 'proven competence, expertise and experience in safeguarding (as defined in Article 2.3 of the Convention) intangible cultural heritage belonging, inter alia, to one or more specific domains' (Criterion A).

6.a. Domain(s) in which the organization is active

Please tick one or more boxes to indicate the primary domains in which the organization is most active. If its activities involve domains other than those listed, please tick 'other domains' and indicate which domains are concerned.

- oral traditions and expressions
- performing arts
- social practices, rituals and festive events
- knowledge and practices concerning nature and the universe
- traditional craftsmanship
- other domains - please specify

6.b. Primary safeguarding activities in which the organization is involved

Please tick one or more boxes to indicate the organization's primary safeguarding activities. If its activities involve safeguarding measures not listed here, please tick 'other safeguarding measures' and specify which ones are concerned.

- identification, documentation, research (including inventory-making)
- preservation, protection
- promotion, enhancement
- transmission, formal or non-formal education
- revitalization
- other safeguarding measures - please specify

6.c. Description of the organization's activities

Organizations requesting accreditation should briefly describe their recent activities and relevant experience in safeguarding intangible cultural heritage, including those demonstrating the capacities of the organization to provide advisory services to the Committee. Relevant documentation may be submitted, if necessary, under section 8.c below.

Not to exceed 550 words; do not attach additional information

We have successfully organized or part-organized, the following conferences so far:

1. An international, UNESCO-supported Colloquium on Slavery and the Slave Trade in Illoko, August 2010
2. An International Conference of Black Nationalities in Osogbo, August 2010
3. An International Conference of Black Mayors in Osogbo, March 2011

On linkages with the Black Diaspora, we have initiated links with Brazil, Cuba, Caribbean Islands of Grenada and Trinidad and Tobago, especially in the teaching of Yoruba language. We have links with the following institutions: University of Parakou in Benin Republic, as well as Nigerian Centre... for Black African Arts and Civilization (CBAAC), Lagos; Obafemi Awolowo University's Institute of Cultural Studies and University of Ibadan's Institute of African Studies.

We embarked on the documentation of Yoruba festivals in 2009 and, so far, we have covered almost all of Osun State, some parts of Kwara and Ogun. The eventual aim is to produce an 'encyclopaedia' of Nigerian festivals.

The Centre is researching on Yoruba Market days to produce a calendar. It is nearing completion. Nigerian Traditional Cuisine is being documented the foods together with their recipe with the aim of find ways of revitalizing and upgrading them. We thus hope to publish one or more Yoruba cookery books on this.

- Ifa Project: we have also embarked on an ambitious project of documenting all ifa corpus and have moved on to translating them into Spanish and Portuguese.
- Deities Eulogy: we have been collecting and documenting the Eulogies of the Deities. So far we have covered those of Ogun and Esu in Ile-Ife and Ondo. Like the Ifa project, clearly this is a gigantic project that will go on for years and for which the centre has to seek international assistance towards safeguarding it.
- Promotion of and support for Local Artists: we have been particularly keen on promoting and supporting local performers such as Sango of Africa, Sango Osogbo, Rabiu Ayandokun and his Bata group, and a group of women dancers-singers from Shao in Kwara State.

- Twelve (12) festivals video taped
- Calendar of traditional market days
- Calendar of Traditional Cuisine – three (3) states
- TV series of thirteen (13) Yoruba Folktales and presented through local TV
- Exhibit, Kings and Priests
- Supported Masifa School of Ifa (Elementary School), two hundred (200) students Infrastructure Support; Pay salaries of 2 staff personnel).
- Secured Consultant (Babalawo) for support for translation of Ifa corpus into Spanish
- Consultant for market day calendar (consistency and relevance to Ifa calendar for next 100 years)
- Secured Ulli Beier's papers

CBCIU has acquired the building on Station Road, Osogbo, where Duro Ladipo lived and had his theatre (complete with a stage). The idea is to conserve it, preserve the stage and changing rooms out of which came those great plays Oba Kosoo, Moremi, Eda, and so on. We also intend to create spaces for a museum/gallery in which to showcase works of the original Osogbo artists, as well as regularly exhibit works by other contemporary artists. All these activities are geared towards safeguarding, transmission, upgrading and revitalization of intangible cultural heritage for international understanding.

6.d. Description of the organization's competence and expertise

Please provide information on the personnel and members of the organization, describe their competence and expertise in the domain of intangible cultural heritage, in particular those that demonstrate the capacities of the organization to provide advisory services to the Committee, and explain how they acquired such competence. Documentation of such competences may be submitted, if necessary, under section 8.c below.

Not to exceed 200 words; do not attach additional information.

The Centre comprise of experts in various domains of ICH. They include Emeritus Professor Michael Omolewa, Former Nigerian Permanent Delegate/ Ambassador to UNESCO; Mr. Augustus Babajide Ajibola, the Nigerian ICH Expert who participates in the mechanisms of the UNESCO 2003 Convention in various capacities; Chief Muraina Oyelami, a choreographer, composer.
painter, playwright and an actor certified by universities and polytechnics across the world; Chief Jimoh Buraimoh, an astute painter who is a product of the famous Ulli Beier Workshop in the late Fifties. Professor Siyan Oyefeso, the Executive Director is a Professor of History and a Folklorist who is well grounded in most of the domains of Intangible Cultural Heritage. The Centre can provide advisory services to the Committee because the personnel are certified professionals who have excelled in the different domains of ICH most especially taking into consideration the vast knowledge based of the Professor Emeritus Michael Omolewa, OON, a linguist as well as a Historian deeply rooted in UNESCO workings and of course, Mr. Ajibola, a seasoned Cultural administrator who has actively served on the Subsidiary Body as Vice Chair and has also Chaired in the course of evaluations of nomination files of submitted by States Parties.

7. The organization’s experiences in cooperating with communities, groups and intangible cultural heritage practitioners

The Committee will evaluate whether NGOs requesting accreditation "cooperate in a spirit of mutual respect with communities, groups and, where appropriate, individuals that create, practise and transmit intangible cultural heritage" (Criterion D). Please briefly describe such experiences here.

Not to exceed 350 words; do not attach additional information

The Centre for Black Culture and International Understanding has a very robust and cordial working relationship with the Communities, groups and practitioners of intangible cultural heritage with which it has operated this is premised on the fact that the Centre is operationalized to promote the ideals and expand the frontiers of UNESCO's mandate in the Culture Sector. That is why you would see that it fully subscribes to the letters of the 2003 UNESCO Convention and would not carry out any activity within a Community, among any groups or with any practitioners of intangible cultural heritage without first informing them and obtaining their free, prior and informed consent for any activities to be implemented. The Community(ies), groups and individual practitioners owns their ICH so we only go there to partner and assist them in safeguarding their resources. In cases where the intangible cultural heritage of an area is endangered or threatened, we notify the community(ies), advice them on safeguarding options and equally provide financial and technical support to ensure the upgrading and revitalization of such elements. Atypical example is the experience with Orisa Dances of Yoruba Land that is fast disappearing. We approached the Kingships across Yorubaland and notified them of the need to urgently resuscitate this dying religious culture of the people. The bearers agreed and the few practitioners that are left were mobilized by them to perform the dances which were eventually documented in written, and audio-visual forms. This Centre assisted with funding for the project, awareness raising, production and circulation the DVD so that everyone can savour, understand and enjoy the richness of the culture. We have never in the course of our interaction with bearers and practitioners overstepped our boundary, we respect the wishes of the owners of the ICH and have never impeded or encroached on their rights. The Community(ies), groups and individuals ICH practitioners that we have interacted with could testify to this. The Chairman of the Centre is a Prince and so, accords so much respect to the Community, groups and intangible cultural heritage practitioners because he is also a bearer of ICH.
8. Documentation of the operational capacities of the organization

The Operational Directives require that an organization requesting accreditation submit documentation proving that it possesses the operational capacities listed under Criterion E. Such supporting documents may take various forms, in light of the diverse legal regimes in effect in different States. Submitted documents should be translated, wherever possible, into English or French if the originals are in another language. Please label supporting documents clearly with the section (8.a, 8.b or 8.c) to which they refer.

8.a. Members and personnel

Proof of the participation of the members of the organization, as requested under Criterion E (i), may take diverse forms such as a list of directors, a list of personnel and statistical information on the quantity and categories of the members; a complete membership roster usually need not be submitted.

Please attach supporting documents, labelled ‘Section 8.a’.

8.b. Recognized legal personality

If the organization has a charter, articles of incorporation, by-laws or similar establishing documents, a copy should be attached. If, under the applicable domestic law, the organization has a legal-personality recognized through some means other than an establishing document (for instance, through a published notice in an official gazette or journal), please provide documentation showing how that legal personality was established.

Please attach supporting documents, labelled ‘Section 8.b’.

8.c. Duration of existence and activities

If it is not already clearly indicated in the documentation provided under section 8.b, please submit documentation proving that the organization has existed for at least four years at the time it requests accreditation. Please provide documentation showing that it has carried out appropriate safeguarding activities during that time, including those described above in section 6.c. Supplementary materials such as books, CDs, DVDs or similar publications cannot be taken into consideration and should not be submitted.

Please attach supporting documents, labelled ‘Section 8.c’.

9. Signature

The application must include the name and signature of the person empowered to sign it on behalf of the organization requesting accreditation. Requests without a signature cannot be considered.

THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

1. Chairman, Board of Trustees:
Prince Olagunsoye Oyinlola, a former Governor of Osun State was appointed to play a pivotal role in the establishment of the Centre for Black Culture & International Understanding (CBCIU) as Chairman of CBCIU in his personal meritorious capacity by former President Olusegun Obasanjo in his capacity at the President of the Federal Government of Nigeria. A culture enthusiast, Oyinlola was Governor of Osun State from 2003-2010 and was able to open up the state to local and international communities, utilizing Culture and Tourism which grew rapidly during his tenure. He was the prime architect of the First Global Conference of Black Nationalities, a UNESCO-sponsored Colloquium on Slavery, Slave Trade and Its Consequences; which were held in Osun State from 23-27 August, 2010. Oyinlola also commenced plans for the hosting of the World Summit of Black Mayors in Osun State before his exit from Government in 2010. Prince Oyinlola is utilizing his warm and friendly disposition to cultivate friendships, even beyond the shores of Nigeria, thus placing the Centre for Black Culture and International Understanding at a vantage position for the achievement of its objectives. A Prince from a royal background. Prince Oyinlola has a deep knowledge of African customs and traditions, particularly that of the Yoruba.

In recognition of his outstanding contributions to the development of humanity, Prince Olagunsoye Oyinlola was in April 2004, conferred with an honorary Doctorate Degree in Civil Laws by the Ladoke Akintola University of Technology, Osogbo and a Doctor of Letters Degree of the Federal University of Technology, Minna, Niger State in 2006. Prince Oyinlola also bagged a Doctor of Laws Degree (Honours Causing) from the prestigious Buckingham University, United Kingdom, in February, 2007. Similarly, Osun State University honoured him in 2010 with a Doctor of Laws degree; while Lead City University, Ibadan followed suit in December 2010 with the award of a honorary Doctorate Degree in Civil Laws on Oyinlola. He is also a Fellow, Chartered Institute of Arbitrators and a Fellow of the Nigerian Institute of Management.

2. Emeritus Professor Michael Omolewa (OON), is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Centre for Black Culture and International Understanding Osogbo.
